

OUR RELATIONSHIP STORY

Aarav Gurung & Nisha Karki

Partner Visa Statement

Australia — July 2026

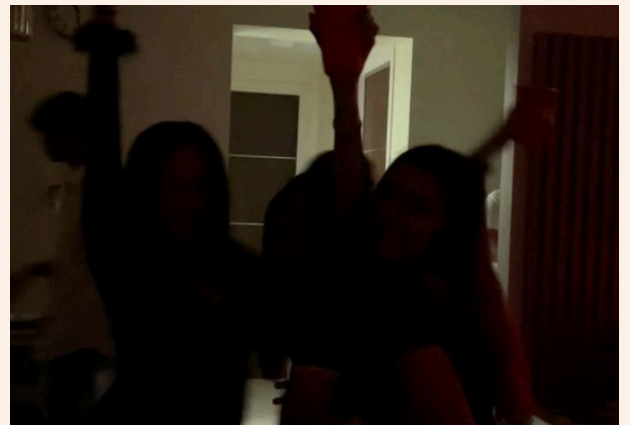

"Every beautiful journey begins with a simple hello."

We first met in the summer of 2022 at a mutual friend's house party in Kathmandu. Although we had heard about each other through friends, that evening was the first time we had the chance to properly talk. What started as a casual conversation quickly turned into hours of laughter, shared stories, and discovering how much we had in common.

After the party ended, we exchanged contact information and continued talking almost every day. Those conversations became something we both looked forward to, and it wasn't long before we realized there was a genuine connection growing between us.

HOW OUR RELATIONSHIP DEVELOPED

A few weeks later, we planned our first date in Basantapur. We spent the afternoon exploring the historic streets, trying local food, and enjoying each other's company without realizing how quickly time had passed. That day marked the beginning of something very special. Over the following months, we continued meeting regularly. Whether it was discovering new cafés, taking evening walks, or simply talking about our dreams and ambitions, every moment helped strengthen our relationship. Our friendship naturally grew into love, and we officially became a couple later that year.

LONG DISTANCE RELATIONSHIP

There were times when work and family responsibilities meant we had to spend weeks apart. Although the distance was difficult, we stayed connected through daily phone calls, video chats, and thoughtful messages. Those moments reminded us that genuine relationships are built on trust, communication, and patience

As our relationship became more serious, we introduced each other to our families.

Their kindness, encouragement, and acceptance strengthened our confidence in our future together. Family gatherings, festivals, and celebrations became opportunities for everyone to get to know one another better.

One of our most memorable trips was to Pokhara. We spent our days walking along Phewa Lake, watching the sunrise from Sarangkot, and enjoying the peaceful atmosphere.

During that trip, Aarav proposed, making it one of the happiest moments of our lives.

beautiful views and deeper conversations.

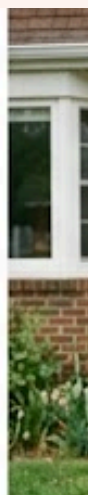

LIVING TOGETHER

After our wedding, we began building our home together. Everyday routines such as preparing meals, organizing our home, and supporting each other's careers brought us closer. We learned that happiness comes not only from special occasions but also from sharing ordinary moments.

SHARED ACTIVITIES AND MEMORIES

We enjoy travelling, trying new restaurants, watching movies, cooking together, and celebrating festivals with our families. We also enjoy short weekend trips around Nepal, creating memories through photography and exploring new places together

SUPPORT AND EVERDAY LIFE

We always encourage one another to pursue personal and professional goals. During difficult times, we listen, offer support, and remind each other that challenges are easier to overcome together. Mutual respect, honesty, and understanding remain the foundation of our relationship.

FUTURE PLANS

We hope to continue growing together while supporting each other's ambitions. We look forward to travelling more, building a warm and welcoming home, and creating a future filled with love, respect, and shared experiences. Above all, we hope to continue making memories together for many years to come.

CLOSING STATEMENT

Every relationship is built through countless shared moments, both big and small. Looking back on our journey reminds us how far we have come together and how much we have learned from one another. We are grateful for every experience that has shaped our story and excited for everything the future holds.

"Together, every chapter becomes our favorite story."
